Crypto not currency; needs to be regulated as asset: Former RBI deputy guv

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

FORMER RBI DEPUTY governor R Gandhi on Tuesday made a case for treating and regulating crypto as a separate asset class with a view to enabling governments around the world to effectively deal with illegal activities associated with virtual currencies. After quite a lot of debate over the years, he said, people have fully understood that crypto cannot be a currency because the fundamental element of a currency - that it should be a legal tender - is missing in this case.

He said that in this case, one cannot compel a crypto currency to be accepted by another person as it is not a legal tender.

The general consensus among many policymakers is that it should be deemed as an asset, not as a currency, not as a payment instrument and not as a financial instrument as there is no clear identified issuer, he said.

"So once we have an understanding and acceptance, that it is an asset (not a currency), then it becomes relatively little easier to have regulation around it," he said at a virtual event organised by Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) and Blockchain & Crypto Assets Council (BACC).

He expressed apprehension that there is a possibility of using this virtual asset for criminal activity in absence of regulation and there are numerous instances indicating that. So, he said, any jurisdiction should have a clear framework by which any part of the economic activity should not be seen as supportive of any criminal activity.

Sebi introduces T+1 settlement cycle on optional basis

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

CAPITAL MARKETS REGULA-TOR Sebi on Tuesday introduced T+1 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions on optional basis in a move to enhance market liquidity.

Currently, trades on the Indian stock exchanges are settled in two working days after the transaction is done (T+2). The regulator has decided to provide flexibility to stock exchanges to offer either T+1 or T+2 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions, according to a circular. The stock exchange may choose to offer T+1 settlement cycle on any of the scrips, after giving an advance notice of at least one month, regarding change in the settlement cycle,

IPO fund outperforms benchmarks in bumper year of listings

AN INDIAN FUND that invests only in recently listed stocks has outperformed the nation's benchmark indexes in 2021 despite skipping a majority of the initial public offerings in what's shaping up to be a record year.

The fund run by Edelweiss Management Ltd. has returned 46% this year, according to the firm, beating gains of 24% for the NSE Nifty 50 Index and 22% by the S&P BSE Sensex Index, which still lead the Asia region among country benchmarks. Indian companies have raised $9.9 billion in 60 IPOs so far, on pace for an all-time annual high. Many of the sales have been by tech firms that were highly oversubscribed and soared after listing, despite the companies having yet to show a profit.

"It is very normal in a bull year to have many IPOs," said Radhika Gupta, Edelweiss Mutual Fund's chief executive officer, noting a similar trend in 2017. "We always believe IPO investing is more about being choosy by identifying selective good companies early and assessing their ability to deliver earnings." The Edelweiss Recently Listed IPO Fund didn't participate in most of this year's new offers as many didn't meet the criteria for valuations and business models, Gupta said in an interview on Sept. 1.

Crypto not currency; needs to be regulated as asset: Former RBI deputy guv

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

FORMER RBI DEPUTY governor R Gandhi on Tuesday made a case for treating and regulating crypto as a separate asset class with a view to enabling governments around the world to effectively deal with illegal activities associated with virtual currencies. After quite a lot of debate over the years, he said, people have fully understood that crypto cannot be a currency because the fundamental element of a currency - that it should be a legal tender - is missing in this case.

The general consensus among many policymakers is that it should be deemed as an asset, not as a currency, not as a payment instrument and not as a financial instrument as there is no clear identified issuer, he said.

"So once we have an understanding and acceptance, that it is an asset (not a currency), then it becomes relatively little easier to have regulation around it," he said at a virtual event organised by Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) and Blockchain & Crypto Assets Council (BACC).

He expressed apprehension that there is a possibility of using this virtual asset for criminal activity in absence of regulation and there are numerous instances indicating that. So, he said, any jurisdiction should have a clear framework by which any part of the economic activity should not be seen as supportive of any criminal activity.

Sebi introduces T+1 settlement cycle on optional basis

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

CAPITAL MARKETS REGULA-TOR Sebi on Tuesday introduced T+1 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions on optional basis in a move to enhance market liquidity.

Indian stock exchanges are settled in two working days after the transaction is done (T+2). The regulator has decided to provide flexibility to stock exchanges to offer either T+1 or T+2 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions, according to a circular.

The stock exchange may choose to offer T+1 settlement cycle on any of the scrips, after giving an advance notice of at least one month, regarding change in the settlement cycle, to all stakeholders, including the public at large, and also disseminating the same on its website.

After opting for T+1 settlement cycle for a scrip, the stock exchange will have to mandatorily continue with the same for a minimum period of six months. Thereafter, in case the stock exchange intends to switch back

toT+2 settlement cycle, it will do so by giving one-month advance notice to the market. Any subsequent switch (from T+1 to T+2 or vice versa) will be subject to minimum period and notice period as

mentioned by the regulator. The decision has been taken based on discussions with market infrastructure institutions like stock exchanges, clearing corporations and depositories. "There shall be no netting between T+1 and T+2 settlements," the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) said. The settlement option for security will be applicable to all types of transactions in the security on that stock exchange. For example, if a security is placed under T+1 settlement on a stock exchange, the regular market deals as well as block deals will follow the T+1 settlement cycle on that bourse. The new framework will come into force with effect from January 1, 2022, the regulator said.

Sebi has directed stock exchanges, clearing corporations and depositories to take necessary steps to put in place proper systems and procedures for smooth introduction of T+1 settlement cycle on optional

IPO fund outperforms benchmarks in bumper year of listings

AN INDIAN FUND that invests only in recently listed stocks has outperformed the nation's benchmark indexes in 2021 despite skipping a majority of the initial public offerings in what's shaping up to be a record year.

The fund run by Edelweiss Management Ltd. has returned 46% this year, according to the firm, beating gains of 24% for the NSE Nifty 50 Index and 22% by the S&P BSE Sensex Index, which still lead the Asia region among country benchmarks.

Indian companies have raised $9.9 billion in 60 IPOs so far, on pace for an all-time annual high. Many of the sales have been by tech firms that were highly oversubscribed and soared after listing, despite the companies having yet to show a profit.

"It is very normal in a bull year to have many IPOs," said Radhika Gupta, Edelweiss Mutual Fund's chief executive officer, noting a similar trend in 2017. "We always believe IPO investing is more about being choosy by identifying selective good companies early and assessing their ability to deliver earnings." The Edelweiss Recently Listed IPO Fund didn't participate in most of this year's new offers as many didn't meet the criteria for valuations and business models, Gupta said in an interview on Sept. 1.

tual currencies. After quite a lot of debate over the years, he said, people have fully understood that crypto cannot be a currency because the fundamental element of a currency - that it should be a legal tender - is missing in this case.

He said that in this case, one cannot compel a crypto currency to be accepted by another person as it is not a legal tender.

The general consensus among many policymakers is that it should be deemed as an asset, not as a currency, not as a payment instrument and not as a financial instrument as there is no clear identified issuer, he said.

"So once we have an understanding and acceptance, that it is an asset (not a currency), then it becomes relatively little easier to have regulation around it," he said at a virtual event organised by Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) and Blockchain & Crypto Assets Council (BACC).

He expressed apprehension that there is a possibility of using this virtual asset for criminal activity in absence of regulation and there are numerous instances indicating that. So, he said, any jurisdiction should have a clear framework by which any part of the economic activity should not be seen as supportive of any criminal activity.

Sebi introduces T+1 settlement cycle on optional basis

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

CAPITAL MARKETS REGULA-TOR Sebi on Tuesday introduced T+1 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions on optional basis in a move to enhance market liquidity.

Indian stock exchanges are settled in two working days after the transaction is done (T+2). The regulator has decided to provide flexibility to stock

The stock exchange may choose to offer T+1 settlement cycle on any of the scrips, after giving an advance notice of at least one month, regarding change in the settlement cycle, to all stakeholders, including the public at large, and also disseminating the same on its website.

After opting for T+1 settlement cycle for a scrip, the stock exchange will have to mandatorily continue with the same for a minimum period of six months. Thereafter, in case the stock

so by giving one-month advance notice to the market. Any subsequent switch (from T+1 to T+2 or vice versa) will be subject to minimum period and notice period as

mentioned by the regulator. The decision has been taken based on discussions with market infrastructure institutions like stock exchanges, clearing

corporations and depositories. "There shall be no netting between T+1 and T+2 settlements," the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) said. The settlement option for security will be applicable to all types of transactions in the security on that stock exchange. IPO fund outperforms benchmarks in bumper year of listings

AN INDIAN FUND that invests only in recently listed stocks has outperformed the nation's benchmark indexes in 2021 despite skipping a majority of the initial public offerings in what's shaping up to be a record year.

The fund run by Edelweiss Management Ltd. has returned 46% this year, according to the firm, beating gains of 24% for the NSE Nifty 50 Index and 22% by the S&P BSE Sensex Index, which still lead the Asia region among country benchmarks.

Indian companies have raised $9.9 billion in 60 IPOs so far, on pace for an all-time annual high. Many of the sales have been by tech firms that were highly oversubscribed and soared after listing, despite the companies having yet to show a profit.

"It is very normal in a bull year to have many IPOs," said Radhika Gupta, Edelweiss Mutual Fund's chief executive officer, noting a similar trend in 2017. "We always believe IPO investing is more about being choosy by identifying selective good companies early and assessing their ability to deliver earnings." The Edelweiss Recently Listed IPO Fund didn't participate in most of this year's new offers as many didn't meet the criteria for valuations and business models, Gupta said in an interview on Sept. 1.

Crypto not currency; needs to be regulated as asset: Former RBI deputy guv

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

FORMER RBI DEPUTY governor R Gandhi on Tuesday made a case for treating and regulating crypto as a separate asset class with a view to enabling governments around the world to effectively deal with illegal activities associated with virtual currencies. After quite a lot of debate over the years, he said, people have fully understood that crypto cannot be a currency because the fundamental element of a currency - that it should be a legal tender - is missing in this case.

He said that in this case, one cannot compel a crypto currency to be accepted by another person as it is not a legal tender.

The general consensus among many policymakers is that it should be deemed as an asset, not as a currency, not as a payment instrument and not as a financial instrument as there is no clear identified issuer, he said.

"So once we have an understanding and acceptance, that it is an asset (not a currency), then it becomes relatively little easier to have regulation around it," he said at a virtual event organised by Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) and Blockchain & Crypto Assets Council (BACC).

He expressed apprehension that there is a possibility of using this virtual asset for criminal activity in absence of regulation and there are numerous instances indicating that. So, he said, any jurisdiction should have a clear framework by which any part of the economic activity should not be seen as supportive of any criminal activity.

The stock exchange may choose to offer T+1 settlement cycle on any of the scrips, after giving an advance notice of at least one month, regarding change in the settlement cycle, to all stakeholders, including the public at large, and also disseminating the same on its website.

IPO fund outperforms benchmarks in bumper year of listings

AN INDIAN FUND that invests only in recently listed stocks has outperformed the nation's benchmark indexes in 2021 despite skipping a majority of the initial public offerings in what's shaping up to be a record year.

The fund run by Edelweiss Management Ltd. has returned 46% this year, according to the firm, beating gains of 24% for the NSE Nifty 50 Index and 22% by the S&P BSE Sensex Index, which still lead the Asia region among country benchmarks.

Indian companies have raised $9.9 billion in 60 IPOs so far, on pace for an all-time annual high. Many of the sales have been by tech firms that were highly oversubscribed and soared after listing, despite the companies having yet to show a profit.

"It is very normal in a bull year to have many IPOs," said Radhika Gupta, Edelweiss Mutual Fund's chief executive officer, noting a similar trend in 2017. "We always believe IPO investing is more about being choosy by identifying selective good companies early and assessing their ability to deliver earnings." The Edelweiss Recently Listed IPO Fund didn't participate in most of this year's new offers as many didn't meet the criteria for valuations and business models, Gupta said in an interview on Sept. 1.

PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

Crypto not currency; needs to be regulated as asset: Former RBI deputy guv PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, September 7

FORMER RBI DEPUTY governor R Gandhi on Tuesday made a case for treating and regulating crypto as a separate asset class with a view to enabling governments around the world to effectively deal with illegal activities associated with virtual currencies.

After quite a lot of debate over the years, he said, people have fully understood that crypto cannot be a currency because the fundamental element of a currency - that it should be a legal tender - is missing in this case.

He said that in this case, one cannot compel a crypto currency to be accepted by another person as it is not a legal tender.

The general consensus among many policymakers is that it should be deemed as an asset, not as a currency, not as a payment instrument and not as a financial instrument as there is no clear identified issuer, he said.

"So once we have an understanding and acceptance, that it is an asset (not a currency), then it becomes relatively little easier to have regulation around it," he said at a virtual event organised by Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) and Blockchain & Crypto Assets Council (BACC).

He expressed apprehension that there is a possibility of using this virtual asset for criminal activity in absence of regulation and there are numerous instances indicating that. So, he said, any jurisdiction should have a clear framework by which any part of the economic activity should not be seen as supportive of any criminal activity.

CAPITAL MARKETS REGULATOR Sebi on Tuesday introduced T+1 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions on optional basis in a move to enhance market liquidity.

Currently, trades on the Indian stock exchanges are settled in two working days after the transaction is done (T+2).

The regulator has decided to provide flexibility to stock exchanges to offer either T+1 or T+2 settlement cycle for completion of share transactions, according to a circular.

The stock exchange may choose to offer T+1 settlement cycle on any of the scrips, after giving an advance notice of at least one month, regarding change in the settlement cycle,

IPO fund outperforms benchmarks in bumper year of listings

AN INDIAN FUND that invests only in recently listed stocks has outperformed the nation's benchmark indexes in 2021 despite skipping a majority of the initial public offerings in what's shaping up to be a record year.

The fund run by Edelweiss Management Ltd. has returned 46% this year, according to the firm, beating gains of 24% for the NSE Nifty 50 Index and 22% by the S&P BSE Sensex Index, which still lead the Asia region among country benchmarks.

Indian companies have raised $9.9 billion in 60 IPOs so far, on pace for an all-time annual high. Many of the sales have been by tech firms that were highly oversubscribed and soared after listing, despite the companies having yet to show a profit.

"It is very normal in a bull year to have many IPOs," said Radhika Gupta, Edelweiss Mutual Fund's chief executive officer, noting a similar trend in 2017. "We always believe IPO investing is more about being choosy by identifying selective good companies early and assessing their ability to deliver earnings." The Edelweiss Recently Listed IPO Fund didn't participate in most of this year's new offers as many didn't meet the criteria for valuations and business models, Gupta said in an interview on Sept. 1.
